Maggie Bosanquet

Doctor of Science

Durham Cathedral, 28 June 2022

Tæt* ã\ÁÓ[•æ] ~ ^oÁ[æ] æt^•ÁÖ | @æ[ÁÔ[~] &Ã[e] ÅÔ[~] &Ã[e] ÅÕ[~] ÅÕæla[] ÁÒ&[] [{ ^Á\^æ[EÁ She is in her third term on the Advisory Board of the Durham Energy Institute and is c@Á~] ãç^!•ãc e Á\^^Á&[] å ãA[!Á&[[]^!æã] Å, ã@Ác@ÁÔ[~] &ÃEÅÙ@Á•~]][!c\åÁc@Á establishment of the Masters in Energy and Society here at Durham University in 2014, funding staff to join our modules and helping us ensure the programme was relevant and effective, and working with us on numerous research initiatives for staff moved into County Durham, and by 2009 she had built a team of 12 people. She now manages a multi-million pound budget and influences national policy. She has set up and guided several regional and national partnership organisations to move us into a Low Carbon Economy.

Y @} ÁT æt * ð Áræ • Árææ fárÁr @ Áræ, Á@ l Ár à Áræå ç^ l ær ^ å Ér @ Á, [ * | å Áræð, \ Ér Ér Ér ær år Áræð, \ Ér Ér ær år Áræð, ær Áræð, æ

Alongside this ability to make change for the better, Maggie has the gift of friendship, and a clear ethical and moral stance based on kindness and care. In her support for nurturing partnerships with students and staff alike, she is a role model for all of us.

Chancellor I present Maggie Bosanquet to receive the degree of Doctor of Science honoris causa.